Author's Note, Part 2

Q: It's funny that on page 14 of volume 3 the Kimuras, who live right across the street, were on a different team than the Enoki's because the dividing line ran down their street, but according to the map on page 76 of volume 5 Eddie--who was on the Blue team with Tatsuya--lives much farther away.

Kagawa: Well yes, that's true but allow me to make up an excuse. The town of Nagara is divided because of its large population, but it's still considered to be one town. The Enokis and the Kimuras are from District 1 and Eddie lives in District 2.

Q: In chapter 17 (page 6 of volume 4) all the kids took a share of the 5,000 yen for the festival, and there should have only been 500 yen left at the end, but the story has it that 1,500 yen was left. Wasn't that a mistake?

Kagawa: Well. Big sister Atsumi took her share of the 5,000 yen, but there was actually 6,000 yen on the table to begin with. So it wasn't a mistake.

Q: In chapter 19 (volume 4), you say it's a pity that the man had to go to a home for the elderly, but please don't say that I work at a home for the elderly, and it's a very nice place.
